

Rooted in BC, Driving Global Innovation: AOT Technologies Takes the Stage at Web Summit Vancouver 2025

Victoria & Vancouver, BC – May 2, 2025 – AOT Technologies is thrilled to announce our participation in Web Summit Vancouver 2025, happening May 27–30 at the Vancouver Convention Centre. As a proudly BC-founded tech company with a growing global footprint, we're excited to connect with 15,000+ attendees and 750+ startups at North America's largest technology conference, hosted for the first time ever in British Columbia.

We specialize in building intelligent digital platforms that solve real-world challenges across industries. From low-code application development and AI/ML-powered automation to cloud-native engineering and enterprise systems integration, our solutions are designed for scale, speed, and long-term impact.

Our work has a strong impact on the community—we've supported over 15 BC government agencies and Crown corporations in streamlining processes, modernizing legacy systems, and accelerating digital innovation. With a consulting-led approach and deep technical expertise, we help both public and private organizations simplify complexity and unlock measurable results.

One of our flagship products, formsflow.ai, is now used by over 5,000 organizations worldwide. This AI-powered forms automation platform combines dynamic form building, workflow automation, identity and access management, document generation, and analytics into one modular stack—empowering teams to eliminate paperwork and automate at scale.

We'll also be showcasing caseflow, our smart case management platform designed for transparency, traceability, and efficiency from intake to resolution. Ideal for industries where compliance and process accuracy matter most, caseflow brings visibility and automation into mission-critical workflows.

At Web Summit Vancouver 2025, we invite innovators, founders, CIOs, investors, policymakers, and ecosystem builders to visit our booth, meet the AOT Technologies team, and explore opportunities to partner on solutions that shape the future. Whether you're leading enterprise transformation, launching a disruptive startup, or seeking high-impact investment opportunities, we're here to collaborate.

With a strong foundation in AI-powered platforms, low-code innovation, and cloud-first engineering, AOT is uniquely positioned to support ventures at every stage—from prototype to platform. As a BC-based company with global reach, we're especially excited to engage with the local and international tech community converging at Web Summit Vancouver for the first time.

We're not just here to demo products — we're here to build lasting relationships, spark new ideas, and create technology that drives real-world impact. Let's connect, innovate, and grow—together for global change.

Where to Find Us:

 Booth #E362

 May 27–30, 2025

 Vancouver Convention Centre

We're also hosting a post-event executive meetup, Toast to Automate, on May 29. Join us for an evening of networking and celebration with fellow tech enthusiasts.

About AOT Technologies

AOT Technologies is a Canadian software firm that excels in low-code development, app modernization, public sector digital transformation, and startup advice. Our community-centric culture, cloud-first philosophy, and dedication to co-creation with our customers establish us as a reliable partner for organizations intent on building with agility, smartness, and purpose. We've also started AI adoption, embedding AI/ML models into real-world applications, from intelligent document recognition to workflow optimization, while ensuring ethical transparency and governance.

Contact:

 aot-technologies.com

 info@aot-technologies.com

Join us at Web Summit Vancouver 2025 to explore how technology can be more human, efficient, and open. Let's shape the future together.